Dear people of WWW

Last week we talked about the heartbeat and focus of our ministry and saw how Jesus continued with his ministry despite the faced rejection. I pray that as we begin to focus our ministry on reaching out to others, that we will fulfil the mission of Church as we become the visible sight of God's love to and in the world.

There is no doubt that the ministry depends on each one of us and unless we engage in this ministry, the much needed and desired growth will not be evident. Today's gospel lesson in fact points to the collaborative way in which we are called to minister, a ministry that is so dear to my heart. I pray that we will take on the challenge to do what needs to be done and work together for the common good of God's Church.

Welcome back to Paul, Lisa, Faith and Grace after their short holiday down the coast. This week is our turn for a bit of a winter break which hopefully will be an opportunity for some rest and refreshment.

Please support the 5th Sunday Bishop's Winter Appeal on 29 July and come and hear the details about what happened at our recent Diocesan Synod.
